its programs and projects by holding forums in schools, libraries, and other public venues, as well as to utilize social media channels and the corporation's website to provide facts, statistics, and other related data on causes, current efforts and solutions to reduce and end Homelessness and Poverty. Examples:

- a. CCO organized and held Forum ENDING HOMELESSNESS: How We Can on February 17, 2018, with keynote speaker Donald W. Burnes, PhD., founder and Chair of Burnes Center on Poverty and Homelessness at Graduate School of Work, University of Denver. Guest speakers included county commissioner, city mayor, law enforcement, nonprofit representatives, and a panel discussion. This is the first public platform that CCO held with nearly 100 attendees, with free meals offered for people experiencing homelessness at the La Plata County Fairgrounds Exhibit Hall.
- b. CCO used media to inform local government and the public the danger to human health at the City of Durango's proposed "Lightner Creek Shelter. It is an open space on the Durango, Colorado, Uranium Mill Tailings Remediation Act, Title-1 Project.
 - i. Our executive director researched the Durango #1 Mill Site in March 2018 to learn more about the Uranium and Vanadium Processing Mill Site that was forced to close by EPA in 1963.
 1. The Vanadium Mining Company used the location for the new shelter between 1942 and 1963 to produce Yellow Cake in secret for the Manhattan Project. CCO and other nonprofits in our area protest against the City's decision to not perform a health risk assessment.
 - ii. Durango Herald, DurangoTV.com, and KCOB/TV-Albuquerque interviewed Donna Mae for her opinion and knowledge that may impact people in homelessness and poverty, should they be expected to camp overnight adjacent to this area and regarding panhandling;
 - iii. The Lightner Creek Shelter is known as the Durango Dog Park — not necessarily the ideal spot for human campers;
 - iv. The site, according to the Department of Energy and Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, was never intended for human habitation;
 - v. Despite our efforts to deter the City's action through data and documentation related to this project, the City continues to believe they are not obligated to conduct such assessments.
- c. We may provide internships or volunteer opportunities, which may provide opportunities for involvement in said activities and programs in order to have a greater impact for change.

Interns may create programs that may be written into the Village Governances for the benefit of the Homeless who are accepted into the Village of Hope and/or other CCO programs. Such collaboration with local college, schools, and other nonprofits is conducive to the daily operation of the proposed village and toward the improved lives of individuals and families who are chronically homeless, with behavioral issues, Veterans, Unaccompanied Youth ages 18-25, and survivors of Domestic Violence.

- B. Community Compassion Outreach may donate items to people in homelessness that are camping, sleeping in cars, or in other uninhabitable spaces, and wherever an encampment is established. CCO may adopt new programs that includes people with mental health and/or substance use disorders.
- C. CCO may find employment for people experiencing homelessness, as an example:
 - a. When CCO was a program “Give Us Dirty Work” began late August 2017, with fundraisers to purchase identifiable Tee Shirts with CCO’s logo, and the program name is subject to change.
 - b. To assist persons in replacement of lost IDs, CCO may continue to ensure its clients have identification for employment or other services.
- D. CCO’s charitable activities are for the relief of the poor, the distressed, or the underprivileged.
 - a. Community Compassion Outreach assist the poor and people who are unhoused or unable to afford rent by identifying Small Houses that may meet local Housing Quality Standards of the Colorado Housing Authority and International Building Codes & local zoning.
 - i. A Village of Hope may lessen the burdens of the government by reducing the population of people who experience homelessness—beginning with its first project in La Plata County.
 - ii. Neighborhood tensions require volunteers, directors, and Board members working together with both CCO’s constituents and neighboring residents through community meetings during the planning, construction, completion, and operational phases of a Village of Hope.
 - iii. Professional case managers, certified social work, volunteer mentorships, job skills trainers, behavioral counselors, etcetera, will support a programmatic community in which continuum of care is ensured.
 - b. During the 416 Wildfires (June 1, 2018 to July 21, 2018), CCO sent out a call on Facebook and via email asking for personal items to be delivered to Evacuees and the Homeless Campers:
 - c. Donations to Durango Christian Church (DCC), CCO’s base of operation, resulting in a DCC check written to Walmart where water, Band-Aids, tarps, trail mixes, Tylenol, garbage bags, sunscreen, Calamine lotion, flashlights,

- etcetera, were delivered to the Homeless Camp that is established at Escalante Middle School (Red Cross Emergency Shelter);
- d. Tents were provided to CCO by private citizens and CCO's Board members delivered it to specific Homeless individuals at the camp;

- F. CCO's work aims to foster positive justice toward people in poverty and homelessness.
- G. Information and educational materials may include holistic approaches to sobriety or recovery from mental health conditions that may be co-occurring or independent of substance misuse/overuse.²

8.04 Nondiscrimination Policy

The officers, directors, committee members, employees, and persons served by this corporation shall be selected entirely on a nondiscriminatory basis with respect to age, sex, race, religion, national origin, and sexual orientation. It is the policy of COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH not to discriminate on the basis of race, creed, ancestry, marital status, gender, sexual orientation, age, physical disability, veteran’s status, political service or affiliation, color, religion, or national origin.

8.05 Bylaw Amendment

These Bylaws may be amended, altered, repealed, or restated by a vote of the majority of the board of directors then in office at a meeting of the Board, provided, however,

(a) that no amendment shall be made to these Bylaws which would cause the corporation to cease to qualify as an exempt corporation under Section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, or the corresponding section of any future Federal tax code; and,

(b) that an amendment does not affect the voting rights of directors. An amendment that does affect the voting rights of directors further requires ratification by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of a quorum of directors at a Board meeting.

(c) that all amendments be consistent with the Articles of Incorporation.

ARTICLE IX
COUNTERTERRORISM AND DUE DILIGENCE POLICY

In furtherance of its exemption by contributions to other organizations, domestic or foreign, COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH shall stipulate how the funds may be used and shall require the recipient to provide the corporation with detailed records and financial proof of how the funds were utilized.

Although adherence and compliance with the US Department of the Treasury’s publication the “Voluntary Best Practice for US. Based Charities” is not mandatory, COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH willfully and voluntarily recognizes and puts to practice these guidelines and suggestions to reduce, develop, re-evaluate and strengthen a risk-based approach to guard against the threat of diversion of charitable funds or exploitation of charitable activity by terrorist organizations and their support networks.

COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH shall also comply and put into practice the federal guidelines, suggestion, laws and limitation set forth by pre-existing U.S. legal requirements related to combating terrorist financing, which include, but are not limited to, various sanctions programs administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) in regard to its foreign activities.

ARTICLE X
DOCUMENT RETENTION POLICY

10.01 Purpose

The purpose of this document retention policy is establishing standards for document integrity, retention, and destruction and to promote the proper treatment of COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH records.

Section 1. General Guidelines. Records should not be kept if they are no longer needed for the operation of the business or required by law. Unnecessary records should be eliminated from the files. The cost of maintaining records is an expense which can grow unreasonably if good housekeeping is not performed. A mass of records also makes it more difficult to find pertinent records.

From time to time, COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH may establish retention or destruction policies or schedules for specific categories of records in order to ensure legal compliance, and also to accomplish other objectives, such as preserving intellectual property and cost management. Several categories of documents that warrant special consideration are identified below. While minimum retention periods are established, the retention of the documents identified below and of documents not included in the identified categories should be determined primarily by the application of the general guidelines affecting document retention, as well as the exception for litigation relevant documents and any other pertinent factors.

Section 2. Exception for Litigation Relevant Documents. COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH expects all officers, directors, and employees to comply fully with any published records retention or destruction policies and schedules, provided that all officers, directors, and employees should note the following general exception to any stated destruction schedule: If you believe, or the COMMUNITY COMPASSION OUTREACH informs you, that corporate records are relevant to litigation, or potential litigation (i.e. a dispute that could result in litigation), then you must preserve those records until it is determined that the records are no longer needed. That exception supersedes any previously or subsequently established destruction schedule for those records.

Section 3. Minimum Retention Periods for Specific Categories

(a) Corporate Documents. Corporate records include the corporation's Articles of Incorporation, By-Laws and IRS Form 1023 and Application for Exemption. Corporate records should be retained permanently. IRS regulations require that the Form 1023 be available for public inspection upon request.

(b) Tax Records. Tax records include, but may not be limited to, documents concerning payroll, expenses, proof of contributions made by donors, accounting procedures, and other documents concerning the corporation's revenues. Tax records should be retained for at least seven years from the date of filing the applicable return.

(c) Employment Records/Personnel Records. State and federal statutes require the corporation to keep certain recruitment, employment and personnel information. The corporation should also keep personnel files that reflect performance reviews and any complaints brought against the corporation or individual employees under applicable state and federal statutes. The corporation should also keep in the employee's personnel file all final memoranda and correspondence reflecting performance reviews and actions taken by or against personnel. Employment applications should be retained for three years. Retirement and pension records should be kept permanently. Other employment and personnel records should be retained for seven years.

(d) Board and Board Committee Materials. Meeting minutes should be retained in perpetuity in the corporation's minute book. A clean copy of all other Board and Board Committee materials should be kept for no less than three years by the corporation.

(e) Press Releases/Public Filings. The corporation should retain permanent copies of all press releases and publicly filed documents under the theory that the corporation should have its own copy to test the accuracy of any document a member of the public can theoretically produce against the corporation.

(f) Legal Files. Legal counsel should be consulted to determine the retention period of particular documents, but legal documents should generally be maintained for a period of ten years.

(g) Marketing and Sales Documents. The corporation should keep final copies of marketing and sales documents for the same period of time it keeps other corporate files, generally three years. An exception to the three-year policy may be sales invoices, contracts, leases, licenses, and other legal documentation. These documents should be kept for at least three years beyond the life of the agreement.

(h) Development/Intellectual Property and Trade Secrets. Development documents are often subject to intellectual property protection in their final form (e.g., patents and copyrights). The documents detailing the development process are often also of value to the corporation and are protected as a trade secret where the corporation:

(i) derives independent economic value from the secrecy of the information; and

(ii) has taken affirmative steps to keep the information confidential.

The corporation should keep all documents designated as containing trade secret information for at least the life of the trade secret.

(i) Contracts. Final, execution copies of all contracts entered into by the corporation should be retained. The corporation should retain copies of the final contracts for at least three years beyond the life of the agreement, and longer in the case of publicly filed contracts.

(j) Correspondence. Unless correspondence falls under another category listed elsewhere in this policy, correspondence should generally be saved for two years.

(k) Banking and Accounting. Accounts payable ledgers and schedules should be kept for seven years. Bank reconciliations, bank statements, deposit slips and checks (unless for important payments and purchases) should be kept for three years. Any inventories of products, materials, and supplies and any invoices should be kept for seven years.

(l) Insurance. Expired insurance policies, insurance records, accident reports, claims, etc. should be kept permanently.

(m) Audit Records. External audit reports should be kept permanently. Internal audit reports should be kept for three years.

Section 4. Electronic Mail. E-mail that needs to be saved should be either:

(i) printed in hard copy and kept in the appropriate file; or

(ii) downloaded to a computer file and kept electronically or on disk as a separate file. The retention period depends upon the subject matter of the e-mail, as covered elsewhere in this policy.
